

From Summer to Autumn, students and staff from the Regional University Network have been enjoying various events and activities, celebrating our collaborative partnership.

The first ever Arts Festival for Network students took place at Civic Quarter where final year students from Park Lane College, Newcastle College, Hull College Group and Kirklees College exhibited their final year work. Network students also had the opportunity to visit our Headingley Campus at their own day as part of the Freshers' Festival.

Staff from Partner Colleges attended the Staff Development Festival and benefited from coaching with a difference, with a wide range of keynotes and interactive workshops including a day of team activities at Bishop Burton College. The College also hosted the annual Partners' Board for Network staff, which celebrated and reflected on the past year's successes and looked ahead to future developments and the vision of the Network.

Students from Partner Colleges exhibited their end of year work at the first Regional University Network Arts Festival.

This year's Staff Development Festival saw colleagues from the University and Partner Colleges enjoy a variety of activities including sheep herding at Bishop Burton College.

Hull College Enterprise Singing Group performed a medley of uplifting songs to close the Regional University Network Staff Development day.

Bishop Burton College hosted the third annual Regional University Network Partners' Board and provided an impressive student floristry demonstration to open the event.

Over 400 Regional University Network students attended their freshers' day which was packed with activities and included a live performance of 'Life is Crisp' by Network graduate Lee Barnes.
